1:15 - 2:30 pm

New York, New York UNHQ

Join the Ambassador from the Marshall Islands as well as the Peace Boat's delegation of Hibakusha (atomic bomb survivors) and Global University students, who will be arriving to NYC on the ship, in a discussion about building a global community committed to raising awareness of the humanitarian consequences of nuclear weapons and nuclear testing. Youth have a critical role to play in passing along the memories and legacy of the survivors. Our youth delegates will present their plan of action conceptualized while studying with Peace Boat and the survivors from Hiroshima and Nagasaki- officially designated by the Japanese government, as “Special Communicators for a World without Nuclear Weapons.”

An event in the margins of the UN First Committee on Disarmament and International Security

* Must have a United Nations grounds pass to attend this event
